THE NEW TESTAMENT

A Word to the Teacher

More than eighty years have passed since the publication of Bible History: A Textbook of the Old and New Testaments for Catholic Schools (1931). The book soon became a standard text in Catholic schools, for students in the grades we would now call middle school. Since that time, Bible History has become a popular text for Catholic homeschooled students.

The time has now come for an updated version that is more complete and more accessible to contemporary readers. The new and expanded version of the textbook, published by TAN Books as The Story of the Bible, appears in two volumes: Volume 1, The Old Testament, and Volume 2, The New Testament. Vocabulary, style, and historical and geographical references have been updated; the text features a new design with fresh illustrations; and some of the material has been reorganized for a clearer presentation.

Most significantly, the New Testament history, which previously focused on the Gospels and concluded with the events reported in Acts 2, now includes six additional chapters. These final chapters tell about the last decades of the biblical story as the newborn Church grew rapidly and began to suffer persecution. They take readers through the remainder of the Book of Acts, focusing—as that book does—on the ministries of the Apostles Peter and Paul. The last chapter concludes with brief remarks about how the New Testament epistles and the Book of Revelation, though not themselves historical narratives, nevertheless contribute to our historical knowledge of the earliest Christians.

Enhanced Storytelling

The new title, The Story of the Bible, reflects a new emphasis in presentation on the narrative aspect of the biblical text. Young people love a good story, and the Scripture is full of good stories: in the Old Testament, from the poetic description of creation to the high dramas of prophets, kings, and conquerors; in the New Testament, from the compelling parables of Our Lord to the startling visions of the Apocalypse.

The storytelling aspect of the two new volumes has been especially enhanced in two ways. First, the dynamic style of the new illustrations contributes powerfully to the narrative. Second, an audio recording of the texts is now available so that students can enjoy the biblical stories, not just as readers, but also as listeners. The recording also makes it possible for younger students to enjoy the texts before they have acquired the reading vocabulary required for the books.

Using the Test Book

The revisions of the textbook were extensive enough to require a completely new test book. Like the previous test book, this one provides questions for each chapter that are suitable as a study exercise or as an objective answer test, with an answer key at the end. But the questions now include not only matching items, but multiple choice items as well (along with a few true/false), rather than fill-in-the-blank. Questions for both volumes of the textbook are included in the new test book.

Teachers should note that when Scripture is quoted in The Story of the Bible, quotations from the New Testament are now freely adapted from the New Testament, Confraternity Text. For this reason, the spelling of the names of people and places will reflect more contemporary usage, rather than the spellings in the older Douay-Rheims translation.

Finally, we should note that supplementary materials for use with the textbook and this test book are available for free download at the publishers' website: www.TANBooks.com.

St. Jerome, an ancient Doctor of the Church and Bible translator known as "the father of biblical scholarship," once said: "Ignorance of Scripture is ignorance of Christ." Our prayer is that The Story of the Bible and the accompanying test book will tell the story of Scripture in such a way that young readers will be drawn closer to Our Lord, who is Himself the eternal Word of God.

Multiple Choice

Directions: For each numbered item, circle the letter beside the choice (A, B, C, or D) that best answers the question or completes the statement. Circle only one choice per item. Each correct answer is worth 4 points. 40 possible points.

1. Why did so many of the Jewish people of Jesus' time resent Herod the Great?
 - A. Herod laid a great burden of taxes on the people.
 - B. Herod refused to worship at the Temple.
 - C. Herod was guilty of great cruelty, and he wasn't a Jew.
 - D. Herod was extremely wealthy, but he did nothing to help the poor.

2. Why were the tax collectors so despised by the Jewish people?
 - A. Tax collectors oppressed the people and forced them to pay as large a tax as possible to enrich themselves.
 - B. Tax collectors were a constant reminder that the Jews were under the domination of a foreign power.
 - C. Tax collectors who were themselves Jews were considered traitors to their nation.
 - D. All of the above.

3. Why were there moneychangers in the Temple?
 - A. To avoid extra weight, travelers carried with them only one or two coins of great value, so they needed to exchange these for multiple coins of lesser value.
 - B. Only gold could be used to pay for Temple sacrifices, so the moneychangers exchanged gold for coins of other metals.
 - C. Only Jewish money could be used to pay for Temple sacrifices, so the moneychangers exchanged Jewish coins for Greek and Roman coins.
 - D. All of the above.

4. How did the Jewish people of Jesus' time usually eat their meals together?
 - A. They reclined on cushions on the floor around dishes of food set in the middle, much like spokes around the hub of a wheel.
 - B. They sat down in chairs around tables the same way we do today.
 - C. They took their meals outside their homes and ate while sitting on the grass.
 - D. They ate on the roof of the house, which served as an outside deck.
